U.S. Gives Big Orders For Planes

200 Firms Get Go-Ahead Signal From Government

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP)—The United States air force today gave 200 manufacturers a signal to go ahead with the production of more than $4,000,000,000 worth of airplanes and parts.

The industry was directed to get busy with the job and negotiate contracts later.

Letters of intent, authorizing the companies to proceed while Congress is continuing action on appropriations and contracts are being worked out, were sent to the manufacturers.

An air force spokesman said the orders cover the entire air force procurement program for the fiscal year that began July 1.

This includes orders contemplated in the regular defense appropriation for the current fiscal year, and additional bills that will be provided under the additional $10,000,000,000 defense appropriation asked recently by President Truman.

Davidson and Torsten Johansson scored the first two victories in singles yesterday. Tomorrow's final two singles contests now become a mere formality.

3 Drown As Launch Explodes

Harrison Lake, B.C. Boat Blast Also Burns 2 Badly

HARRISON, B.C., July 29.—(BUP)—Three persons drowned and two were badly burned when a launch exploded and burst into flames on Harrison lake this afternoon 60 miles east of Vancouver.

Allan Carmichael, his wife and ten-year-old son Marvin drowned when the flaming boat sank.

Skinner Andrew Lakeberg grabbed the Carmichael's young daughter Rosalie and leaped overboard. They were rescued by another launch which sped to the scene after seeing the Lakeberg Logging Company white-painted launch "Miss Harrison" alight.

The tragedy occurred three miles off shore near Echo Island in Harrison Lake, shortly after noon.

Lakeberg is president of the logging company which owned the vessel. He and the Carmichael girl were taken to Agassiz for treatment.

Provincial police have begun logging operations to recover the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael and their son.

My Request Takes Race

NEW YORK, July 29.—(UP)—My Request, which lost the same race in a photo finish last year, carried high weight of 124 pounds to victory in today's $20,000 added Merchants and Citizens Handicap featuring the Saratoga-Acacia meeting.

With many of the better handicapped horses slated to run in the rich Arlington handicap at Arlington park, only seven others were entered overnight against My Request.

The Saratoga-Acacia meeting, which opens Monday, also reduced the field because some owners already have their other youngsters in training at the upstate New York track.

Put was second and Hypocrite ran third.

My Request paid $5.70, $3.30, $2.50.

Yanks Beat Back Korea Red Attacks

'Stand Or Die' Order Given To Americans By General

By AP and BUP Despatches
TOKYO, July 30.—(Sunday)—Two American infantry divisions, under grim orders to stand fast or die, beat back repeated Communist assaults today on mountain defense positions in southeast Korea.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said early Sunday the Communist waves of troops breaking against the 1st Cavalry and 25th Infantry divisions were thrown back and there was no appreciable change in the vital Yongdong sector.

There the Americans confront elite North Korean invader divisions, and there the U.S. Eighth Army commander, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, told his men Saturday they must "fight to the death" if need be.

"My army is not going to give up one more inch," declared Walker. "We will stand."

He ruled out all possibility of either retreat or surrender in what he called this critical stage of the struggle to hold on in South Korea until help arrives to mount offensive actions.

Reds Make Small Gains

MacArthur's summary said the Communist forces had made slight gains in two drives 45 to 60 miles southeast to the Yongdong sector but did not indicate their extent. He placed them in the Yongdong sector, near Tongyang, Yodong, and Yodong.

The defense of these positions has been largely in South Korean hands. The mountainous terrain and poor roads made the zone less vital than the front northeast and southwest of Yongdong.

The North Korean's southeast flanking thrust to the big American supply port of Pusan, also made small gains but MacArthur said "rippling air strikes by navy and army planes and increased number of United Nations ground units have convinced the North Koreans that this is not the case."

His summary placed the South Korean forces, who are in small force, in the vicinity of Kungang, 73 air miles from Pusan.

Some American and South Korean forces were credited by MacArthur with slight gains near Yongdong, on the east coast, but that town remained in enemy hands and was still under allied naval bombardment.

It was in the Yongdong sector, however, that the immediate course of the war was being written, and it was there that Walker told his men that they must "fight to the death" if need be.

The People Should Decide

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime By Webster

Jack Scott Seafarer Sails On Prairie Pond

(Columnist Jack Scott is on a cross-Canada tour with his family in automobile and trailer—EDITOR)

The federal cabinet assumes unwarranted authority when it decides, without direction from parliament, whether it will or will not send ground troops to Korea in response to the United Nations appeal.

This is a case where the house of commons should be convened at once so that the representatives of the Canadian people may have a chance to say, without regard to party lines, what the Canadian people want to do.

It is not difficult to understand why the cabinet should shrink from a policy which might involve the employment of conscription with all its threat to the unity of the country.

But if Canada were suddenly plunged into a world war, conscription would be made absolutely necessary, first, as the only means of securing the necessary manpower, secondly, as the only fair and just way of equitably distributing the personal burden of conflict.

This argument is not to be construed as an appeal for conscription without a referendum. There is nothing more repugnant to the democratic way of life than the use of law and force to compel young men to bear arms.

Conscription is almost as horrible as war. But it is impossible to see how the one can be separated from the other.

The significant point is this: If the Canadian people would reluctantly consent to conscription for the sake of securing the safety of the country in a war, would they consent to conscription as a means of avoiding war?

That question becomes exceedingly pertinent in view of the fact that it seems to be pretty well agreed that a sufficient show of force at this time can be expected to halt Russian aggression and prevent the outbreak of world war.

The use of conscription cannot be decided in the newspapers. There is no more gray presumption on earth than for an editor to sit safely in his sanctum and demand that young men be sent into uniform.

The use of conscription cannot be decided by the cabinet. It can only be decided by the people speaking through their elected representatives in parliament and speaking under not the slightest party constraint.

We do not ask that parliament be called together to vote conscription. But we do ask that parliament be called together to face the possibility of conscription and to make very plain whatever other opinions need to be clearly expressed in this critical moment.

For everyone knows that the developments of the next few weeks will decide whether Russian imperialism will continue to threaten the world or whether the armed might of democracy will cause that imperialism to hesitate and retrace its steps.

The situation demands the constant attention of parliament. Mere cabinet decisions are not enough.

THOSE CONTEMPTIBLE HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS WHEN THERE WERE NO COMMUNIST PLOTS, ATOM BOMBS, STRIKES AND INCOME TAXES, AND ALL A BOY HAD TO WORRY ABOUT WAS WHETHER AT SUPPER HE WOULD HAVE WATER MELON OR BLUEBERRY PIE FOR DESSERT

Driving Instruction in Schools

There is merit in the proposal of the Alberta Motor Association that the operation of motor cars be taught in the high schools as an extra-curricular study.

But there is no merit in it at all if there is the slightest danger that this instruction will interfere with subjects already included in the curriculum or if it would impose the slightest extra burden on school teachers.

The present trend of events on this continent seems to indicate that youngsters are going to operate cars in increasing numbers. And since youth is determined to get on wheels and since nobody has found a way to prevent it, it seems reasonable to take steps to see that youth on wheels becomes as adept and cautious as possible.

But school curricula throughout the continent are already overcrowded with subjects that frequently elude out the more basic elements of education.

It is unthinkable that children should be urged to learn to drive for the sake of being able to drive a car.

If this proposed instruction will not interfere with basic education, all well and good. If it does, it is utterly wrong.

They Are Known By Their Fruits

One of the major religious controversies of the Middle Ages centred about a conflict of opinion over exactly what was necessary for salvation.

The various creeds, formulated in the early days of the Christian Church, laid down exactly the articles of belief essential to salvation. And, in a general way, the Creed of St. Athanasius, subject to various interpretations, has been regarded as the basic doctrine of the Church.

But the most important schism arose between those, on the one hand, who regarded faith alone as the basis of heaven and those, on the other hand, who held that faith must be coupled with good works.

The contentions of the latter group were based, in one instance, on the words of our Lord recorded in the 7th chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel.

"Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven."

This would seem to leave very little doubt that the Christian Faith imposes on its adherents certain duties beyond those of mere religious observance.

A man may go to church every Sunday and perform all of his more apparent obligations of worship and still fall short of Christ's requirement if he fails in kindness and generosity to those around him.

It has been said that the first purpose of religion is to give meaning to life. The proponents of faith alone hung their belief.

And, in the sense that God is not completely satisfied unless the love that he bears Him is extended to His children, there is little real difference between the advocates of faith and the advocates of faith plus good works.

For it is, indeed, an act of worship to serve and help one's neighbor.

It is an act of worship to love one's neighbor, provided that love is based on the fact that he who loves and he who is loved are both children of God.

This Vacation Problem Has Far Too Many Angles

We are now smack dab in the middle of the vacation dash and everywhere you turn you see people of all ages and of both sexes running like mad to get away from it all.

There are young fellows grinding up their joints for a bout with some lake where they can retreat from which they will emerge a few weeks later with a hardened constitution.

There are young women who are going to take a "little run" to Miami or to the West Indies or to the Bahamas.

And then there are the housewives who are going to take a "little run" to the beach or to the lake or to the mountains.

And finally, there are the old folks who are going to take a "little run" to the beach or to the lake or to the mountains.

There is the stinky stinky vacation in which one goes to places one can't afford and, after a week, ends up with a headache, a sore throat, and a sore back.

There is the vacation in which one goes to a lake or something and gets caught in a mudslide, a landslide, or a landslide, and becomes injured or killed.

Historical

Editor, Bulletin—Without exceeding those people, Christian or otherwise, who really take it upon themselves to prophesy that there are, nevertheless, a set of historical facts which, while generally ignored by the majority of "church leaders," are of sufficient interest to the general public to warrant a brief mention.

Every section of the Christian Church has from the first century expected four things:

1. Persecution; 2. A state of world-wide evangelism;

3. An eventual development in human affairs which will "bring about the Kingdom of God on earth"; and 4. The sovereign intervention of God at the crucial hour and a supreme transcendence instead of final catastrophe.

For long centuries, 2, 3 and 4 seemed beyond sight, and 1 had long since been fulfilled. The conditions of 3 are now with us on the authority of that supreme exponent of atomic energy, Professor Einstein, who has said that if "H" bombs be used on a certain scale, all life on this planet might be extinguished!

Three and 4 are therefore thrust upon the attention of the entire human family by events and opinions unconnected with and often hostile to Christianity. But the remarkable coincidence between Christian anticipation and the contemporary crisis cannot be escaped and, what is even stranger, though doubtless unconsciously, confirmed by Professor Einstein.

CHRISTIAN.

any without any effort on our part.

Korea today disposes any such eventually and is forced to the conclusion peace is not something that can be made, rather it is something that can be embraced. If you will. However, to embrace peace man must give up his pride and ego and apparently the world is not ready for this.

Life itself is a gift to man in various forms and he finds himself at war with it. It's life! And unless the purpose of humanity is overwhelmingly in favor of peace, it would appear that in this case it is inevitable.

War is a qualitative on the march and unless man contains within himself the seeds of peace, it will grow out of peace and choke the garden of peace into unending suffering.

Truly the atom bomb is man's answer to the devil in himself. Let us forget, let us remember this.

Bow-Arrow Hunting

Editor, Bulletin—At a time when many people are striving to promote more humane treatment of animals, it is extremely regrettable that British Columbia has taken a step backwards in the matter by state legislation the hunting of big game with bow and arrow. As long as humans are being found employment in the pursuit and murder (or maiming) of defenceless living creatures, just as long will we have to endure the horrors of war. The truth taught us long ago that we shall reap as we sow, still holds good today. The gift of life as precious as life is dumb fellow-creatures as to ourselves, and yet we human beings designate it "sport" when we deprive them of this gift with our weapons against which they have no defence. Will we call it "sport" if we ever find ourselves among the pursued? Perhaps it would do us good to learn how it feels.

THE VOICE OF ONE

King's Friends Knew His Simplicity, Loyalty

My dominant memory of Mr. King goes back to V-J day, when he was in the city of Ottawa, at the Ottawa Presbyterian Church. After the service I shook hands with a long line of people at the pulpit steps. Mr. King waited patiently for half an hour until I had finished before greeting me.

The team in his eye and the reminiscent conversation as he recalled past days.

MORLEY

The terrible days of the anxious and decisions of war-time which weighed upon a Prime Minister.

Mr. King had a personal touch with people that no one whom I know in Parliament today possesses. He had the rare quality of being interested in you and of making you feel that you were at that moment the only person important to him.

Wife—You, a log with a saw going through the wood.

Smiles

Man—I slept like a log last night.

Wife—You, a log with a saw going through the wood.

Another Instance

This simplicity and loyalty were discovered by some friends of mine.

During his closing days as Prime Minister, he had few visitors, for he was so busy with the secretary learned that they were friends.

He was one of those who were not in conversation that I have ever known.

He was kind in other ways. A school old lady who had gone to school with Mr. King was very ill in Calgary General Hospital. I wrote him that this old friend was near death and received a letter from Virginia, telling me he was visiting her. He regretted that he could not visit her, but my letter had to be forwarded.

He wrote immediately to the hospital and I shall never remember her with pride as she showed me the letter from Mr. King. She died a day later.

REGINA, Sask.—Scratch the whole of a man who has been had with canoeing catching a wind over his way and you'll find a sailor.

Which is by way of introduction to some notes on one of the strangest yacht clubs in our land. In the early days the lake was a slough and famous as a buffalo wallow.

Hard by the Saskatchewan Irrigation buildings there's a serene pond known as Wapiti Lake. In the early days the lake was a slough and famous as a buffalo wallow.

Wapiti, I'm told by an unreliable party, is a phonetic spelling for the Indian name meaning "my house".

Just in passing I might mention that Regina was originally known as "The O. House" because of the large number of buffalo skeletons that littered the area.

They Make Like Seamen

Anyway, a few years ago, when the last of the buffalo had been shot out, the Wapiti was made into an artificial lake, fed by a small creek, and with a couple of artificial islands. It is a quiet little live-shed pond of water about a mile long, girded by a nice green park.

It is on this that the Regina sailors bravely go through the motions of nautical life.

The club house is on one of the islands. It is a small, white, one-story building with a porch. When we dropped in there, there were a number of white sailboats in the water. They were all of the same type, and they were all of the same size.

Two young men in dungarees and white sweat shirts with the letters "Wapiti" on them were standing at a window at the apocryphal end. They were discussing the breeze as earnestly as if they were heading on a weekend cruise.

As we neared the lagoon, a small sailboat came out, a sturdy, propelled by stern-wheel paddles and loaded with sailboats. Name on the bow was "Queen Mary".

Near the lagoon where we were to rent our craft the wind disappeared entirely.

"I'm sailing a 'berm', a skipper explained professionally. "Parliament buildings take your own sail."

Renting a boat at the "livery" was a more difficult job than I'd expected. We were asked for a sailboat the man on the dock looked at us as if we'd called for a submarine.

"I'll have to call the boss on this," he said.

We're Given Three Degrees

The boss allowed and gave us a third degree. How much experience had we had in sailing? I said we were sailing around Vancouver for 20-odd years.

"Like sailing's a little different," the boss said, but after further explanation he finally agreed to trust us.

We then filled out forms, signed a liability agreement, and paid a boat and how to swim, and the boss led us down to the dock where a small sailboat was waiting for us.

There were neat little placards on her warning us to hang on to the boat and call loudly for help in case of emergency.

It took some ponderous oarings with Man-of-war's men to get the two hundred yards from the shore.

My $10 sun-glasses into the depths trying to get the weeds out of the way.

It WAS a sail and if the government buildings could just be moved there'd be a nice breeze there.

THE VOICE OF ONE

King's Friends Knew His Simplicity, Loyalty

My dominant memory of Mr. King goes back to V-J day, when he was in the city of Ottawa, at the Ottawa Presbyterian Church. After the service I shook hands with a long line of people at the pulpit steps. Mr. King waited patiently for half an hour until I had finished before greeting me.

The team in his eye and the reminiscent conversation as he recalled past days.

The terrible days of the anxious and decisions of war-time which weighed upon a Prime Minister.

Mr. King had a personal touch with people that no one whom I know in Parliament today possesses. He had the rare quality of being interested in you and of making you feel that you were at that moment the only person important to him.

Wheat Crop Said Heavier Than Last Year's Heaviest

By James R. Nelson
Special to the Bulletin

OTTAWA, July 26.—(BUP)—Canada comes to the end of the 1948-50 wheat crop year on Monday with her export grain almost empty and prospects bright for another bumper crop.

The new crop will start pouring into the elevators across the prairies during the latter part of the month. It is expected at least to equal and perhaps exceed the closing year's crop of 307,400,000 bushels.

Preliminary estimates of the new crop and final figures on disposal of the old one will not be officially available until next month. However, the statistics for this year had 329,800,000 bushels for export, and latest government indications are that by mid-July, almost all of it will have been shipped abroad.

The new crop year brings the International Wheat Agreement into force in this country. The treaty, which was signed in London last year, covers the United States, Canada, France and the United Kingdom and 38 importing nations including Germany and Japan.

NO CHANGE SEEN
Canadian exports under the agreement will be made within a range of $1.54 floor and $1.98 ceiling prices. Anything this country sells in excess of the 2,100,000 bushels has been committed for 1950-51 to be sold at control-price prices. At present, wheat in this category is bringing $2.06 on the Winnipeg market and official forecasts no immediate appreciable change.

Western farmers this year planted almost the same acreage to wheat on the prairies as they did in the spring of 1949. But the weather in the next few weeks, the crop will be heavier.

At present, wheat in this category is bringing $2.06 on the Winnipeg market and official forecasts no immediate appreciable change.

Coldwell Again Heads Canadian Socialist Party
VANCOUVER, B.C., July 26.—(BUP)—M. J. Coldwell said today his first job as re-elected leader of the Canadian socialist party, the CCF, would be to demand that Canada send ground troops to Korea.

"If we have them in space, he said, we should send ground troops. Parliament should be re-elected, he told if we have the troops to spare."

Coldwell, member of parliament for Vancouver-False Creek, since 1935, was returned to office last night as national leader and president of the Commonwealth Co-operative Federation. He has held the post continuously since 1942.

He was chosen unanimously for a further two-year term in the closing hours of the CCF's three-day, 10th biennial convention which was underlined throughout with talk of the Korean situation.

Coldwell said anti-Russian sentiment among CCFers was almost nonexistent. It was highlighted shortly before the 1949 general election when the CCF accused Communist support at the polls.

"It is always been the hope of the CCF that Russia might yet adopt democratic methods," the 61-year-old British-born, former schoolteacher said. "But great disillusion has been shown this convention."

The party fitted most of its top positions Friday. With Percy Wright, former MP for Melfort, Sask., succeeded McGill University professor Frank Scott as national chairman. Scott had previously resigned.

Elected to the national council were: Ken Bryden, Toronto; Fred Dowling, Toronto; Lorne Inglis, Ottawa; Bill Irvine, West Kelowna; Alia, Roy Night, Saskatoon; Stanley Knowles, Winnipeg; Don MacDonald, Ottawa; Grace MacInnis, Montreal; Joe Newberry, Toronto; Frank Scott, Montreal; Olive Valjeau, Lake Centre, Sask.

Board Ratified
Appointment of Geo. B. Hendon, O.B.E., F. W. Foster and Sam B. Harris as an assessment appeal board was ratified by city council at a special meeting Friday afternoon.

Under the provisions of the by-law their appointment will extend until Dec. 31, 1951.

Brabazon I May Carry Holidayers

LONDON.—(CP)—The world's largest airliner may be used to carry holiday crowds from London to Paris for as little as £3 ($13.50) a passenger.

The idea, which so far hasn't got the suggestion stage, is that the eight-engine, 180-ton Bristol Brabazon I, originally designed to carry 100 persons standing from London to New York, should make cross-channel flights instead.

Since the Brabazon's operating cost is estimated at about £400 an hour, a 200-seater aircraft could charge as little as £3 return and still show a profit. The present minimum for cross-channel trips is about £10.

ARGUE OVER COST
These arguments are expected to be resisted by the British Aeroplane Company, which built the Brabazon prototype as a kind of "flying laboratory" to discover uncharted secrets of the air. Present plans call for tests to continue on other 18 months, when later versions will be built.

The Brabazon I has been several years in the building. The project will have cost British £150,000,000 by 1954. Because of frequent delays in construction, there have been suggestions that the Brabazon would turn out to be the white elephant of British aviation.

No one in Congress doubted that Mr. Truman's new arms aid request would be granted quickly.

But Republican floor leader Kenneth S. Wherry, Neb., and a block of other legislators were ready to insist that some of the arms aid go to Spain and Western Germany.

Wherry, it is known, told Dulles at yesterday's conference that military leaders strongly favor such assistance, but apparently face strong opposition from the State Department. It was said that Wherry served notice he intends to take the fight to the Senate floor.

Wherry told a reporter he is convinced that military leaders feel the defence of Western Europe is "impossible" without participation of both Spain and Western Germany.

$5 Billion Arms Aid Request Is Forecast

By John L. Steele
Special to the Bulletin

WASHINGTON, July 26.—(UP)—President Truman is about to ask Congress to gamble $5,000,000,000 on Western Europe's ability to defend itself.

Mr. Truman will meet with Senate-House leaders Monday. It was understood he will ask them to add $400,000,000 to the $1,200,000,000 already approved for the arms aid program.

Former Sen. John Foster Dulles, a top State Department policy adviser, conferred yesterday with Republican leaders in the Senate. Warning that the situation is critical, he urged the lawmakers to give their support to the administration's stepped up program building up Western Europe's defenses.

No one in Congress doubted that Mr. Truman's new arms aid request would be granted quickly.

But Republican floor leader Kenneth S. Wherry, Neb., and a block of other legislators were ready to insist that some of the arms aid go to Spain and Western Germany.

35 Years As Cutter On River

Sixty-year-old Jim Gillett, 2757-56 avenue, views the new ice manufacturing plant of Arctic Ice Company Ltd., with awe and a little regret.

Mr. Gillett has been with the company for 35 years and for the last 25 has spent the period between Christmas and March 1 of each year cutting ice from the Saskatchewan river.

He helped harvest 15,000 tons of ice a year. It was stored in the company's refrigerated rooms for summer months.

"It was cold work out there on the river," the grey-haired worker said. "But after the first few days one became accustomed to the freezing conditions."

Mr. Gillett will miss his yearly ritual to the river.

"Although this new plant is just wonderful, I really enjoyed those days I spent obtaining that ice," he said.

Heavy Livestock Losses Likely

BRISBANE, Australia, July 28 (Reuters) — Western Queensland faces cattle and wool losses amounting to millions of dollars because of abnormal winter rains and floods, farm agents said yesterday. Reports indicate thousands of sheep have been swept away by the raging waters.

Made For Revelry
LONDON—(CP)—A new apartment block in London's Walworth district contains a soundproof hall for revelry.

Ice Cutting On River Now Chore Of The Past

Yearly trip of employees of Arctic Ice Co. Ltd., down to the North Saskatchewan river at 142 street, to cut and carry ice blocks for summer storage, is over.

Instead, they now help manufacture ice in the company's new $250,000 plant, now in operation at 10001 97 avenue.

Manufactured ice is new to Edmonton. In fact, new to Alberta. Crystal-clear ice is manufactured with modern equipment in a plant 90 feet by 45 feet.

FILTER WATER

To obtain a clear, pure product, city water is first run through a filtering system for additional purification. Then 30 gallons of water is placed into galvanized cans and lowered into freezing brine.

Thirty-two hours is needed for the ice to freeze. After that period the cans are hoisted out and ice removed to refrigerated storage. Then the ice is ready to be loaded on a fleet of modern trucks which call on approximately 7,500 Edmonton families besides numerous business concerns.

This new method makes the firm's old practice of transporting ice from the river seem ancient.

Up until last March men, heavily garbed in winter clothing, sawed away at the ice formed on the river. Often they had to plane down 16 inches of ice before they came to ice good enough to saw. Thirty men carried out this operation with the aid of 10 trucks.

CUT TO SIZE

By the new system ice can be cut to any exact size. Usual size for householders is a 30 pound block. Even if the block is left in the blazing sun all day, the maximum it will melt is five pounds.

Officials of the company state the quality of the ice will improve as adjustments in the machinery are made.

"They stress the fact that nothing is added to the water and nothing subtracted. Contamination is impossible."

Over 50 years old, the company was formed in Winnipeg and has branches in Moose Jaw and Saskatoon. Clarence McLaughlin is president; C. A. Crawford, vice-president; and F. K. Griffin, Edmonton manager.

In the near future the company hopes to pull down its old buildings and erect a modern one along with a garage.

French Boost Power In Air

PARIS, July 28.—(AP)—The National Assembly approved last night a five-year plan for building up the French air force to 2,500 modern fighting planes and 1,500 for general service.

The action was taken after Jules Moch, defense minister, said France is not calling up any more reserves now, but hinted it may do so later.

Former premier Paul Reynaud criticized Moch for France's having what he called a "ghost army" to face any attacks from Communist countries.

The plan for building up the air force is expected to cost $750,000,000.

Thorium Caught On Ukrainians

BONN, Germany, July 28.—(Reuters)—A substance thought to be uranium and found on four Ukrainians who tried to slip out of West Germany into the Soviet zone in fact thorium, a British spokesman said yesterday.

Analysis showed the thorium—a radioactive material used in atomic bomb research and in electric bulb making—was of poor quality, the spokesman added.

The four Ukrainians were detained Thursday by German frontier police while carrying about two pounds of the substance.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

'The Ten Commandments'

In the ten commandments we have laid down for us the basic conditions by which men and nations may seek to attain to moral righteousness. They call for a simple self-discipline, devotion to God and tell us of the highest ideals of which men are capable.

Today we are told that the ten commandments are outworn and have been superseded by the growing intelligence of men. To many they are but "the ancient, outworn, puritanical notions of right and wrong."

But the state of our world surely reveals that somewhere we have gone off the track. May it not be that it is because we have sought to build our individual and national life on insecure foundations of our own devising, instead of on the old and proven basic rules by which alone we may seek to rise to the heights?

The commandments teach us our duty toward God and to our neighbor. Reverence to God and to His Name, respect for our neighbor and his rights, warning against sin in thought, in word and deed. We are too wise to pay heed to the warning contained and our ignoring of these commands has brought its own punishment.

We have gods aplenty, pleasure, money, our own ego which must be flattered and appeased. Listen to the ordinary conversation around us and mark how often people take the name of God in vain.

Even from the lips of innocent children we hear cursing and blasphemy. They are copying someone older than themselves. Is it you?

The commandments teach the law of purity. This we have chosen to ignore. We are so confident that we can get along with only the good rule and perhaps "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." But experience has shown that without the iron self-discipline demanded by the ancient law we fall all too often.

All our flouting of the law of God has brought to men and nations only trouble and we multiplied over and over again.

We laugh at the commandments and say that we do not need them any more, that we have grown in worldly wisdom and in knowledge, therefore we can find our own way through life without submitting to the discipline which obedience would impose upon us. But we break them at our peril and as we fall to observe them our judgment comes upon us swift or slow but nevertheless always sure.

"Be not deceived, God is not mocked, whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

New Zealanders Drilling For Steam

It Can Be Electricity Source When Done On Major Scale

By I. C. Graham

ROTORUA, N.Z.—(CP)—To the many geysers, blowholes, boiling pools and other strange sights in New Zealand's thermal regions has been added an artificial one—a steaming, belching jet of steam from a deep well.

Barter Day Monthly Fete

SCOTTSBORO, Ala.—(UP)—The first Monday of each month is barter day in Scottsboro. It's Barter Day.

Some 6,000 to 7,000 persons come into town, bringing pigs, chickens, hand-made articles, dogs, farm equipment and truck produce, to trade or sell for cash. Patent medicine men and stock salesmen set up their loud speakers on trucks and bark their wares on the lawn of the county courthouse, where the famous Scottsboro rape trials were held.

Down the street a wandering preacher knows he will get a crowd from the Word of the Lord. Hill-billy bands play.

Scottsboro has been holding its "Swaps" day for nearly 50 years. It is a barter day, with trading out as barter day has done in most other towns.

King Popcorn Threatened By Sorghum

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UP)—Popcorn, the favorite confection of theatre and sports fans for many years, may have a rival before long in pop-sorghum.

Plant breeders at a Texas agricultural experiment station have developed pop-sorghum by crossing Italy's petite mil and India's shalu.

Pop-sorghum has one advantage over popcorn. The hull is thinner and more tender, which means less husk to judge between the teeth.

R. E. Karpner, agronomist in charge of investigations, said the new sorghum is a natural for package caramel and candied confections because of its small size.

Christian Science

"Blended are the virtues which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for their is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:10).

"The very circumstance, which your suffering sense deems wretched, may be made a means of an eternal unweary." (Scripture and Health with Key to the Science of Christian Science, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 574).

The Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science is a "Science of the Soul" and is composed of passages like these:

cheaply than by present methods. But there are many problems to be solved first. The present work is divided into two parts. Test drilling is being carried out to gain practical experience of how to tackle the major task and to determine what sort of steam supply plants and plans are being made in long-term scientific work and also being carried out by geophysicists, in power stations being developed in New Zealand's biggest river.

Registration of motor vehicles of all kinds in Canada increased nearly 13 per cent in 1949 over 1948.

Red Cap Who Raised Family Of 18 Retires

MONTREAL, (CP)—A very little man who told baggage for 45 years without giving anyone a rest, retired today.

This oldest of Canada's railway "red caps" is Henri Lalonde, who is retiring after a career that included service to presidents, premier, government officials and just plain citizens.

Henri raised his career in the Old Montreal Bonaventure station in 1902 and moved to the new CNR central station when it was opened seven years ago. For 40 years he has been a part of the life of the station as the trains that rolled in and out of the city.

Although he didn't devote his time especially to the up-crest, he found carrying celebrities' baggage gave him a bigger thrill—and sometimes more than a jet can.

And he proved that a jet can

West Germans Increase Police

BONN, July 28 (Reuters)—The Western Allies yesterday authorized a 12,000-man increase in the West German police in response to a warning by Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer of the strength of the East zone "People's Police," usually well-informed Allied officials said here.

The Allied high commissioners' permission to augment the Western police by ten per cent, the official said, will also empower the federal republic to have a small force of its own. There is no central police force at present.

Tax Hike Unlikely Canadians Learn

Country's Revenue Intake
Shows Increase Over Budget

By Norman M. MacLeod
Special to the Bulletin

OTTAWA, July 29.—(RUP)—Finance department officials hinted today that if federal revenues continue to hold their present levels Canada may be able to finance its share of the Korean war costs on a "pay-as-you-go" basis—without resort to extra taxes.

"Government income is as far above the estimates of Finance Minister Douglas Abbott in his last budget speech," a senior treasury executive told British

United Press, "that in spite of the situation which the nation is committed to spending on the Korean war over the balance of the year, no treasury deficits will result."

The same view was taken by treasury experts and economists on the danger of the Korean war starting up a runaway or even serious inflation in Canada.

"Speculation on tax increases and the likelihood of inflation as a result of the Korean fighting are at least premature," a top-ranking finance department source said.

BUSINESS CLIMB
The official recalled that in his last budget speech, Abbott was very modest in his forecast of the current year's federal surplus. He predicted a mere $200,000,000 in place of the nine-figure surplus to which taxpayers had become accustomed in the previous years.

The reason for Abbott's modesty had been a widespread belief that economic conditions would level off somewhat this year, and government revenues diminish in proportion.

But instead of leveling off, Canadian business has been climbing to new peaks of activity in the spring and summer months. Its result was that a $200,000,000 surplus was certain to be exceeded.

The minimum amount that in fact was said to be $200,000,000—exactly what the government plans to spend as Canada's share of the cost of the Korean war.

EQUAL TO RAISE
"Theoretically," the finance department source said, "it may well be possible to meet our share

MARRIAGE AND CLOTHING BOTH TAKE BEATING

CHICAGO, July 29.—(UP)—Mrs. Emma Goldberg, 35, won $200,000 today in an out-of-court divorce settlement after charging that her husband ripped off most of her clothes in their Beverly Hills, Calif., home and forced her to flee to the street.

Her attorney said $200,000 of the settlement from George Goldberg, 44, wealthy attorney and hotel operator, was in cash and the rest in real estate.

Cycle Death Was Accident

Owner of a trailer which lapped nose from a moving truck and hit a passing cyclist July 3, has been exonerated of blame in the death of cyclist Philip Duffy.

The jury empaneled by Dr. M. C. Connor reviewed the evidence at its request yesterday.

Duffy, 50, of 12425-101 street, died of severe internal injuries suffered when he was knocked across a sidewalk by the trailer and plumed against a wall.

Accident scene was the corner of 84 street and 116 avenue. The truck and trailer, driven east on 116 avenue by Kenneth Webster, 1834-49 street, reportedly swerved eastward as it passed Duffy who was cycling in the same direction.

The owner's jury concluded: Evidence points to the fact that the pipe from the truck to the trailer may have had some weakness and the trailer hitting the street car may have contributed to it.

Canada Tries Importing Israeli-Made Chocolate

—MONTREAL.—(RUP)—Canadian powdered milk exported to Israel comes back in the form of chocolate bars made in plants near Tel Aviv.

Imports of Israeli-made chocolate is still under the preliminary stage, according to Joseph Baumholtz, manager of the Canadian Palestine (Campa) Trading Company here. The demand is brisk, he said, but the price still is high.

However, arrangements are being made to bring the chocolate in at the same price as Israeli chocolate, he says, he added.

MOSTLY IN EAST
The fruit-flavored bars, both milk and dark chocolate, have been distributed mainly in Montreal to Jewish confectionists. Only a few have found their way as far west as Toronto.

Israeli flourishing chocolate is made in four factories several plants in Ramat Gan, three miles from Tel Aviv, and employs about 2,500 workers, the Campa manager said. The factories were established and are being run by immigrants from Central Europe who brought the chocolate-making know-how with them.

The Canadian-Israeli Trading Company's Israeli chocolate recently left Montreal with 150,000 pounds of powdered milk for Ramat Gan. The cocoa which goes into the making of the bars is being bought on the world market, Baumholtz said.

U.S. MACHINERY
Chicago's machinery in the United States and has set up a branch firm in Bloomfield, N.J. Israel also is shipping chocolate bars to Britain.

The chocolates are only part of the commodities Israel hoped to export. Baumholtz said. The Canadian Palestine Trading Company, set up to facilitate trade between the two countries, is handling some other products.

Israel is trying to bring Japanese Mandarins oranges back to Canada. One hundred per cent olive oil, soap, false teeth, wine, orange juice and citrus oils were only a few of exports Israel was trying to get Canada interested in, Baumholtz said.

Canada's Korea Policy Unlikely To Be Changed

By Dick Brome
Exclusive to the Bulletin

OTTAWA, July 29.—(RUP)—A cabinet source said today Prime Minister St. Laurent "sees no reason" to attend next Wednesday's scheduled cabinet meeting.

Word that the Prime Minister would stay at his summer cottage in St. Pauline, Que., instead of showing up at the session was interpreted here as a tipoff that this country will stand firm on the announced policy of sending only limited aid to United Nations forces in Korea.

But the source, who declined to be quoted by name, said that "new developments are coming pretty fast and the picture could change at any time."

He admitted pressure was growing through the Commonwealth in the United States, and in Canadian and American newspapers for this country to do more toward the Korean fighting program than send its present contribution of three destroyers and an air transport squadron.

ON SHORT NOTICE
The government, nonetheless, has decided not to call parliament into session—at least for the time being. A session of parliament would be necessary before Canadian troops could be committed to fight outside this country's territorial limits.

It was pointed out that the cabinet session is scheduled for the day after the United Nations Security Council meets with Russia to discuss the Korean situation. It was also pointed out that the first time since the North Korean Communists started their sweep through Korea a month ago.

One foreign policy source said a "dramatic move" by the Soviets at Tuesday's meeting would bring about a full-scale review of the following day. If that became necessary, the Prime Minister could get here from his summer cottage within a few hours.

Recruiting Brisk Here
Western Army Command headquarters today announced good response throughout the Command to Defense Minister Cline's appeal for recruits.

From July 13 to 26 the week following the minister's broadcast, 38 men applied in Edmonton, 34 men applied in Calgary and 20 men applied in Vancouver. A total of 92 men applied during the week.

In Vancouver 360 men applied, of whom 125 made application because of the international situation. Calgary reported 18 men had applied because of the overseas war situation.

Recruiting depot at Edmonton's Western Command is open Monday through Saturday until 10 p.m.

Prospective soldiers should bring with them birth certificate, educational certificate and one or two letters of recommendation. Veterans should bring discharge certificate, the spokesman stated.

Prospective recruits under 35 must produce a letter from parents or guardian granting permission to join up.

Age limit is 17 to 36 but men up to 35 may be taken in if they hold essential trade qualifications or specialist qualifications.

50 Persons Die In Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 29.—(UP)—Fifty persons, including one American, were killed last night in Brazil's worst airplane disaster.

A Panair Do Brasil four-engine Constellation struck a high tension wire and crashed in flames on a hill as it was coming in for a landing at Porto Alegre, 600 miles south of here.

The American was Ralph Hotley, 46, of Richmond, Ind., head of the Atlantic Refining Company in Brazil, a long time resident of this country.

The other victims—24 men and 25 women, including the stewardess—were Brazilians.

It was pointed out that the cabinet session is scheduled for the day after the United Nations Security Council meets with Russia to discuss the Korean situation. It was also pointed out that the first time since the North Korean Communists started their sweep through Korea a month ago.

Brief: Any legal submission of not less than 12,000 words.

I'd like to give Mrs. James McAfee of the Norwood district an orchid but she grows such beautiful flowers it might be wasted. Reason I'd like to thank Mrs. McAfee is because she gave nearly everybody in The Bulletin newsmen a dime cup filled with icecream yesterday afternoon. They call Mrs. McAfee the garden lady because of her lovely flowers.

The yanks are coming for a lot of Canadian soldiers and airmen in the great northland. I mean Capt. G. C. Evans of the Royal Canadian Army Dental Corps is in Edmonton on his way north.

He's going to look into the dental needs of servicemen at some 20 northland stations in the Yukon and N.W.T.

Edmonton's Shadow Land

City officials "discovered" a shadow settlement while grappling with the problem of moving even squatter families from site of a new trolley bus roadway near Connor's Hill. An official told me: "It was weird. As we went through the district people poured from behind window shades as if in deadly fear they would be ordered to move."

"I didn't know such conditions actually existed in Edmonton," he said.

That South Side shacktown is situated in the old Mill Creek valley, one of Edmonton's real beauty spots. It was too bad that Mill Creek dried up. Back 25 years ago, Mill Creek rippled along musically through that valley all summer long.

Kids didn't worry about room at city swimming pools. We just dashed up good old Mill Creek with GNR railway ties and mud in a half dozen steps. Gives me a funny feeling to think back to those glorious days of the old swimmin' holes in Mill Creek.

Band Is O.K.

The Canadian-American Schoolgirls band has a clean bill of health. And the band will have Aug. 17-18-19. Last week I mentioned that the girls were touring western Canada in the interest of peace.

A civic official thought there just might be something about the "peace tour" because the Communists are preaching peace very strongly now that the Korean war is getting hot.

But the girl musicians are O.K. It is the Canadian-American brand of solid unfortified border peace they are advocating. Sponsors of the Canadian tour are members of Brandon's highly loyal Lions Club.

There are 10 Canadian girls in the 85-piece band and they are excellent musicians.

It is believed they will perform here in Clarke Stadium.

That was a grand party for a grand little guy out at the Hayward Haven Drive mansion last night.

I mean the day they tossed for good citizen Bob Nye of Royal George-hotel fame.

The hope I'm a spy as Bob is as and if I reach milestone No. 70. He looked years younger than guest George Dame.

Also hope I have as many good friends on hand to slap my back. Many of them Bob. Darned if I don't think you're going to have 'em too. You're doing right noble.

A hearty goodnight to and especially to people who live a long time and still like to live.

TWO PLANE LOADS of U.S. air force cadets reached Edmonton yesterday in course of western Canada tour. Business of comparing notes with Canadian cadets, whose uniforms and flying scholarships they admired.

U.S. Air Cadets Find Edmonton's Nice Place

Twenty-six American air cadets arrived in Edmonton yesterday on the first leg of a Canadian tour. They were a disappointing lot — didn't say any of the things American visitors are supposed to say.

Paving Bid Shows Boost

Not a one expected to find Edmonton in Edmonton. They hadn't even brought along a single pair of slits or snowshoes. They knew there were Indians in Canada but they knew they had long since given up on the idea of "live" and "drilling" oil wells. They didn't even want to know where all the Muslims were. "Edmonton's pretty much what we expected to find," said W. Roy House of Los Angeles. "It's a nice modern city."

The visitors scored with their compliments of the Canadian air cadets.

The smartly turned out Americans thought the Canadian uniforms superior to their own. And they were especially envious of the Canadian cadets' flying scholarships.

If the American cadets want to learn to fly, they must do so at their own expense. Top-ranking Canadian cadets are eligible for free scholarships. Close to 10 were trained in Alberta this summer.

The Americans said their training is made less costly by the generosity of private citizens and groups who donate aircraft to the cadet squadron.

The cadets leave for Vancouver today. In B.C. the group will split with half going north to Prince George, the others to Banff.

They will meet in Calgary Aug. 9 and then visit the RCMP barracks at Regina and Prince Albert national park. They will meet in Edmonton Aug. 15 to start the trip home.

Measurable a similar number of Canadian cadets will tour the U.S. Alberta members of the Canadian group are Sgt. Gerald Henson, Fairview; WO2 Norris Clarkson, Hill South Edmonton; Sgt. Archie Gittie, Calgary; and WO2 Ray Fuke, of Edmonton.

The group will tour a dozen major western U.S. cities, including Los Angeles, Hollywood, Denver and Dallas. They will also visit the Grand Canyon and Boulder Dam in their 16-day trip.

Almost 3,500,000 maple trees are tapped for syrup in Vermont during the few days between freezing weather and the budding of trees.

ARROWS AD AT CORNERS

Green arrow signal lights at 100 street and Jasper Ave., and 100 street and 100 avenue are proving effective in speeding up traffic.

Mayor Sidney Harcourt said yesterday the green arrows are clearing traffic from curbs lanes, most effectively, but some motorists are still not obeying the law by coming to a full stop before turning.

He also stressed that responsibility for an accident rests fully on persons turning on the green arrow. They must give right-of-way to traffic having the full green signal.

Oil Pipeline Claimed Half Way Finished

WINNIPEG, July 29.—(CP)—A steelhead report is circulating through 1,100 miles of pipeline, carrying Alberta oil to the west and markets of eastern North America.

Officials of the International Pipeline Company report that trenching, welding, riveting and trench-filling operations are almost half completed. They started this spring.

The aim is to connect Alberta wells with a lakehead outlet at Superior, Wis., from there the crude oil will be shipped to refineries at Sarnia, Ont. The British and Irish pipeline, at a cost of $200,000,000, will deliver oil at a scheduled to one-quarter of present railway freight rates.

PUMPING STATION

75-mile spur line connecting refineries at Winnipeg with Great Plains, a pumping station near the international border, was begun yesterday.

Southern Manitoba's spring floods delayed that $250,000 project.

Among developers claimed for this "glorified plumbing" are a lower price for petroleum products, a consequent increase in demand, and a resultant impetus to costly research for better fuels.

Western oil in eastern markets will also allow United States dealers $100,000,000 less in pipeline cost.

Present production potential of Alberta fields is about double the present demand. Greater than present refining capacity.

The line was first envisaged at a 40-mile route from Edmonton to Regina, then in 1948, the Badwater field bombed northeast of Edmonton and produced 100,000 bbls. by 50,000 barrels daily.

Imperial Oil engineers and financial advisers the 17th century route, and arranged financial backing in Canada and the U.S.

They decided to pipe eastward to the Great Lakes, Atlantic and possibly European markets, instead of west to British Columbia and the Pacific.

An all-Canadian line was proposed, but abandoned because it was 120 miles longer.

Express Agency Thefts Solved

MONTREAL, July 29.—(CP)—A railway express detective team has solved a series of thefts from express trains.

One of the men arrested, James Albert Jeffrey, pleaded guilty when arraigned in court. He will be sentenced today. The others, Edward Gangis, 24, will be arraigned.

Special agent Joe Shugart of the R.C.M. at Boston and Detective Spike Frank Bore and Fred J. Bennett said the thefts committed during the last two years involved $50,000.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Myers

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The old days are being revived at the famed Hollywood Legion stadium, a boxing arena where for nearly 30 years movie stars have gathered to be seen, and fans flocked into the place to see them.

It has been that way since 1920, when the late grand old character actor, Theodore Roberts, led a drive to build a fight center.

And each Friday night, Hollywood's habit of "fight night at the Legion" stars and fans cram into the spick and span club and enjoy a mutual pleasure against a backdrop of cheering, boisterous and thunders.

About two years ago movie patronage began falling off probably because the management for some puzzling reason elected to favor others with prominent ring-side seats.

STARS FIRST
There has been a change, however. The movie people are getting back the choice seats, and the fans are again elbowing through the turnstiles.

The stadium for years has served as a barometer for a star's popularity. If he or she could almost be judged by where he sat.

In the old days, Max West, Pat O'Brien, George Raft and others bought their seats by the year at nearly $400 per pair. You had to be famous to get them.

FAITHFUL LUPE
Lupe Velez was perhaps the most faithful fight fan of them all. Lupe's abject exhortation to his favorite gladiators "Keep the burn" was a catch phrase.

The gallery lost a friend when he died, and there was hardly a dry eye in the place the night they told off in left taps on the belt for Lupe Velez.

Paint Is Urged For Brick House

Right Colors Can Cool Off House, Remove Drabness

In the mid-twentieth century, the solidity which was the hallmark of the Victorian era is regarded more as the outcome of a stodgy and unimaginative outlook on life.

The era directly preceding the Victorian was the Georgian, and the Georgian also looked upon them as a good solid way in which to build, and so they came down to the present day.

They are still cheap, but there can be no question that they are dull and unattractive in an age when texture is considered an integral part of good design, and when the exterior of the house, if it is to reflect aesthetic something of the warmth and comfort of the interior.

Furthermore a brick house, contrary to a widespread opinion, is not necessarily a "warm" house or a "cool" house. Red bricks, because of their deep color, have the sun's rays and the heat is held within the brick or passed into the interior of the house.

A further argument against a brick house is the fact that they are difficult to paint. A large quantity of brick has been used in building a usually one of limitless masonry.

Yet paint has the power to change all these facts. A brick house, for example, on a brick exterior will reflect the sun's rays and actual tests show that a brick house painted white is fourteen degrees cooler inside than an unpainted house.

FRESHEN UP
Painting an old brick house freshens it up, dresses it up and makes it look like a new house.

Streets where there are rows of brick houses show neither paint nor paint. Paint is the only way to make them look like new.

Painting is especially helpful in this connection in apartment houses where where buildings are often only a few feet apart.

Increasing in popularity is the use of a special paint called "masonry paint" which is especially designed for use on brick and stone.

When the paint is desired to water run freely, it is a good idea to use a strong, drab-colored chemical. It is used as a skin on the brick and it prevents excessive accumulation of sediment.
